Letter: It's time for Mayor Yvonne Parks to say goodbye

Yvonne Parks stated she is proud of the economic development in Desert Hot Springs, However, Burke's Outlet has closed and Kmart has reduced its sales space to about two-thirds of the original store. Fresh & Easy isn't coming, and no one's heard anything about the planned Wal-Mart for a long time.

So, what economic development is she speaking of?

First Mayor Parks stands in front of the Palm Drive bridge, in front of the barricades that were still there and states how happy she is to the the expanded bridge open (it wasn't open yet) and now she seems to be unaware of the economic situation in her town. As mayor she's supposed to be on top of everything, but the temporary city manager says the staff at city hall is underperforming and Mayor Parks states she is totally unaware of the budget shortfall.

I'm not a Adam Sanchez fan but maybe it's time for Mayor Parks to go. If the county registrar's election results stand, DHS voters can color her gone.

Big question is, can Sanchez and Russell Betts work with their fellow council members? Hopefully past behavior is not an indicator of their modus operandi, because adult, civilized behavior has not, in my opinion, been their strong suit.

Ellen Catron, Desert Hot Springs
